- (j) The Company takes all steps in selecting reputable credit and/or financial institutions for the holding of Client money, and as such the Client understands and agrees that the Company shall not be held liable or have any further obligation in the event that such credit or financial institution where the segregated funds are held, defaults in its obligations with respect to the segregated funds.

- (k) In order to deal or effect transactions for the Client's Account, the Company may at its sole discretion deposit the client funds with an intermediate broker, credit institution or bank.
- (l) The Company may maintain merchant accounts on its name with payment service providers, used to settle payment transactions of its clients, however it is understood by the Client and agreed that such merchant accounts are not used for the safekeeping of Client money, but for purposes of settlements of payment transactions. It is further understood that such payment service providers normally keep the percentage of the deposit as a rolling reserve, it should be noted that this will not affect the balance of the Client's trading account as held with the Company.

The Client understands that legislative or other recognition of obligations to Clients funds held by insolvent entity may be treated from other obligations of the entity, for example, the provision of compensation to Clients. The effectiveness of a particular technique may differ depending on the type of asset concerned and the insolvency legislation of the jurisdiction in which asset/funds are held. Some mechanisms that may be used is where Clients may be afforded a "preferential status" as "creditors" which require Client's assets to be held in such a way that they do not become the property of the insolvent entity and are not assets of the Company and should not be used to meet the obligations of the insolvent firm.
- (w) In the event of insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to a financial or credit institution, including payment processing company, where Client's funds are held, the Company (on behalf of the client) and/or the Client may only have an unsecured claim against the financial or credit institution or payment processing company, and the Client may be exposed to the risk that the money received by the Company from the financial or credit institution, or payment processing company is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the Client with claims in respect of the account. - (x) The Client agrees that the Company shall not be liable for any default of any counterparty, bank, payment processing company, custodian or other entity which holds money on Client's behalf and/or through which transactions may be conducted.
